Looking at the dog posts with pictures from the @WeRateDogs Twitter archive, what do the people think about dogs?

What is the average score out of 10 for dog classified by breed?

Out of 113 breeds we identified, the average score is a whopping 10.6. That's more than 100%.
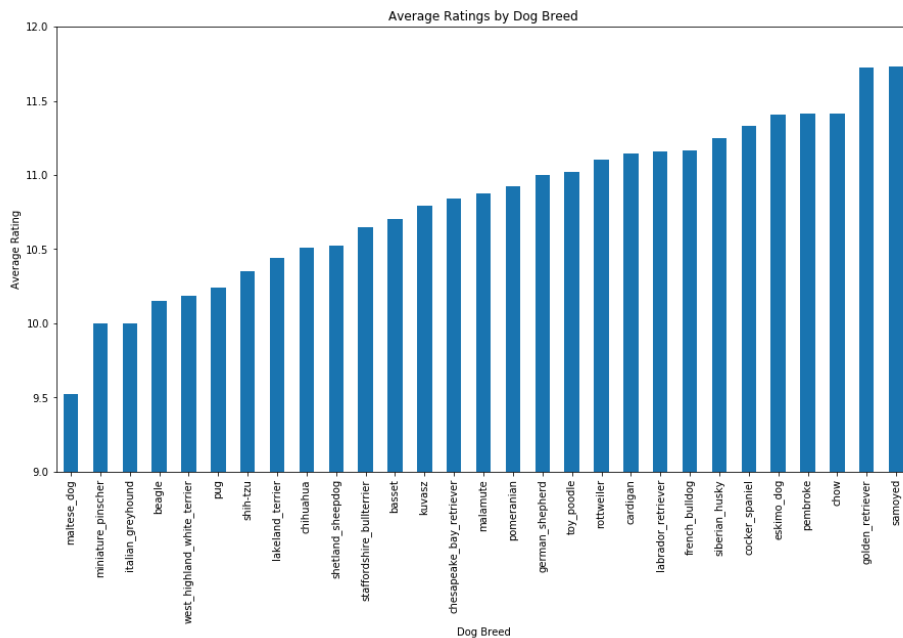

Which dog breed has the highest rating?

Bouvier des Flandres

Which dog breed has the lowest rating?

Japanese Spaniel

That's not fair. I have never heard of these dogs. Can you only list common breeds?
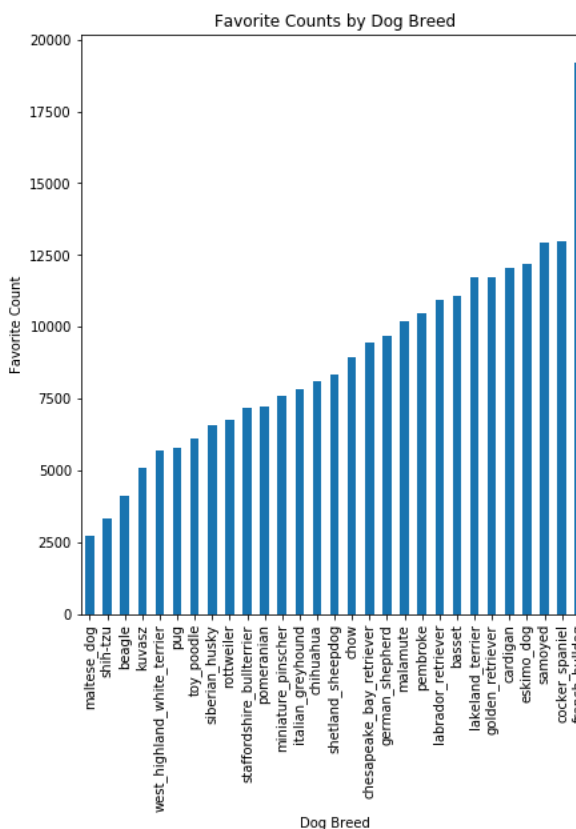

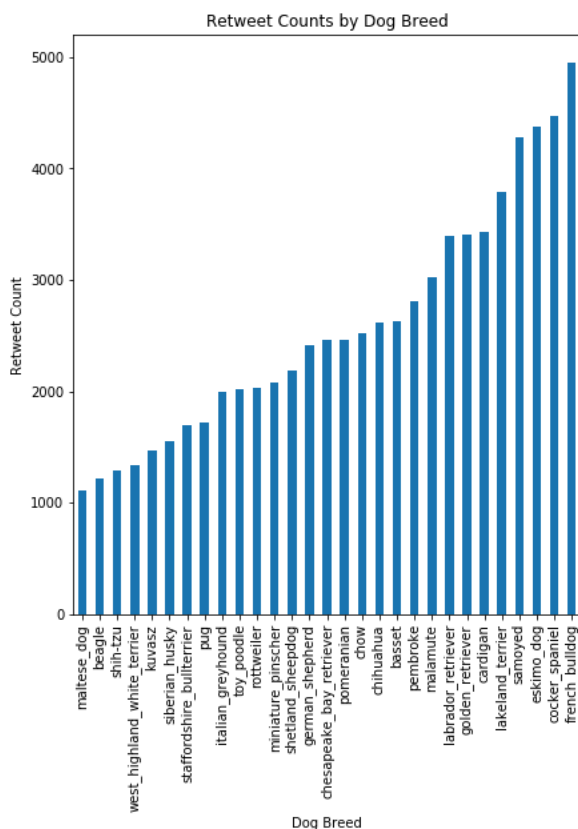

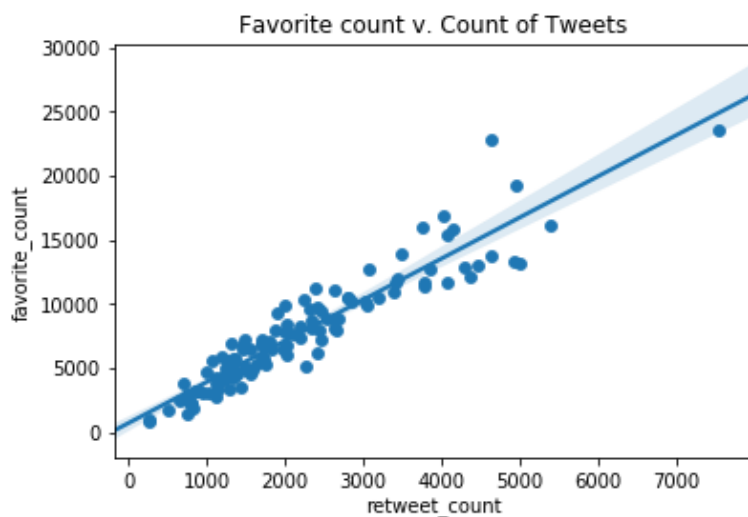

If we only look at breeds in the top 25% of total number of unique tweets, we find that the average score increases to 10.8. Samoyed followed by golden retriever has the highest rating close to 11.7. Maltese dog has the lowest rating under 10. See chart below for the full list:

For dog popularity, is it true that tweets with more retweets also have more favorites?
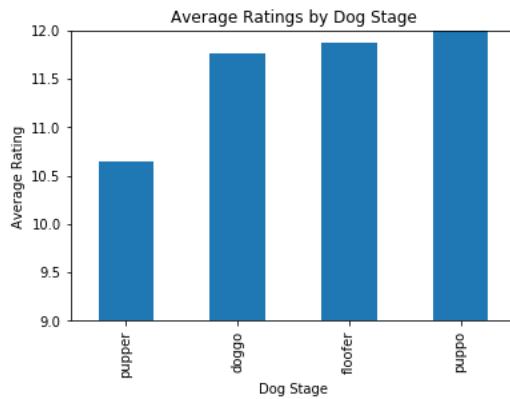

Yes, there's definitely a positive correlation. This might be expected because more views or actions on a tweet could cause both retweets and favorites. People who tend to favorite might also share the tweet with friends, causing a chain reaction.

French bulldog has the highest number of retweets and favorites. Maltese, shi tzu, and beagle are in the bottom 3 for count.

What dog stage according to the dogtionary do people like the most?

It seems like people love dogs in general, all stages have above a 10 in score. Doggo, floofer, and puppo are close, but pupper is a whole point below.

We also have more favorite counts for puppo and retweet counts for doggo.
